Today's Preview: The Clinton LumberKings (A, Mariners) meet the Wisconsin Timber Rattlers (A, Brewers) for the second time this season with the finale of a four-game series. In the two teams' first meeting this year, they split a four-game series at Ashford University Field. The LumberKings trail the all-time series, dating back to 1963, 307 to 366. Since Clinton has been affiliated with the Seattle Mariners (2009) they trail the head-to-head matchups 70 games to 74.

LumberKings Starter: Tommy Romero, 20, makes his fourth start of the season for the LumberKings. The righty took a no decision his last time out against the Beloit Snappers at Ashford University Field. Romero lasted just four innings allowing two runs on two hits while walking two and striking out six. In his two previous outings this season, Romero has impressed. The Florida native took the loss in his season debut despite allowing just one run in a five-inning outing against the Kane County Cougars. Romero then held the best hitting team in the league, Cedar Rapids KERNELS, to just two hits over six innings to pick up his first win of the year. The six-shutout innings by Romero marked the first time this season a LumberKings starter turned in a quality start. The Seattle Mariners took Romero in the 15th round of the 2017 MLB Draft and came into the 2018 season as the 25th ranked prospect in the Seattle Mariners system according to Baseball America.

Timber Rattlers Starter: Christian Taugner, 22, makes his fourth start of the season for the Wisconsin Timber Rattlers. This will be his second start of the season against the LumberKings. Taugner made his season debut in Clinton and was hung with the loss for his five innings of work in which he allowed three runs on five hits while walking none and striking out two. During the start versus the LumberKings he allowed home runs to Ariel Sandoval and Johnny Adams, Sandoval's last home run. In Taugner's most recent start, he was given the loss for a five-inning outing in Peoria. The righty allowed three runs on six hits while walking one and striking out three. The Ivy League product pitched collegiately for Brown University where he graduated with a degree in economics before being drafted by the Milwaukee Brewers in the 37th round of the 2017 MLB draft. While pitching for the Brown Bears, Taugner missed the entire 2015 season due to injury before rebounding with back-to-back Second Ivy League honor seasons. He made his professional debut with the AZL Brewers on June 25th with a perfect inning of relief. This will be his first start at home this season.

About Last Night: Home runs by Jack Larsen and Louis Boyd were not enough for the Clinton LumberKings as they fell to the Wisconsin Timber Rattlers 5-4 on Wednesday night at Neuroscience Group Field. The losses mark the first time this season that Clinton (11-5) has lost back-to-back games. All five of the Timber Rattlers (5-14) runs came across in the bottom of the fifth inning. The five-run rally by Wisconsin against LumberKings starter Nick Wells saw nine men come to the plate. Back-to-back two run singles by Tristen Lutz and Pat McInerney capped the rally for the Timber Rattlers. Wells (2-1) took the loss for Clinton but settled down following the second inning to retire the final seven batters he faced. The LumberKings added their final run in the top of the ninth inning. Louis Boyd homered to lead-off the inning to pull Clinton to within one run. The long fly was Boyd's first of the season. Timber Rattlers reliever Gabe Friese then walked Joseph Rosa to put the tying run on. Friese then induced a game ending double play ball from Dimas Ojeda to hand the LumberKings their second straight loss. Friese earned his third save of the season for his two innings of relief work for Wisconsin.

Since the Beginning: Jack Larsen has been red hot in the series with the Wisconsin Timber Rattlers. The LumberKings outfielder added three more RBI to his total with a three-run home run in the top of the sixth inning on Wednesday night. He now has seven RBI over the first three games and has been one of the most consistent hitters in the Midwest League. The long fly, his third of the year, marked the 15th straight game in which Larsen has reached base safely, a streak started on the season opener on April 7th at Ashford University Field.

Nothing for Free: LumberKings pitching has combined to allow 47 runs through the first 16 games of the season. During Wednesday night's loss, Clinton committed zero errors for the 11th time this season with all five runs allowed being earned. All of the runs LumberKings pitching has allowed to this point this season have been earned. The LumberKings are now the only remaining team in all of professional baseball, at any level, to have not allowed an unearned to this season.

Feels like the First Time: Clinton infielder Louis Boyd was drafted by the Seattle Mariners in the 24th round of the 2017 draft and was scouted and signed by Amanda Hopkins. Since signing with Seattle, Boyd has played 62 games as a professional but his last, Wednesday night, will forever be remembered as the night of his first professional career home run.

Just Wait Till the 6th: After spotting the Timber Rattlers a five-run lead in the second inning on Wednesday night it took until the 6th for the LumberKings to come up with an answer. The runs scored by Clinton in the sixth were the ninth of the series to be scored in the sixth frame. On the season, the sixth inning has accounted for most of the LumberKings runs. Of the teams 73 runs this season 22 of them were scored in the sixth inning, or 30% of the team's total runs.

A Crooked Number: The Timber Rattlers five-run second inning on Wednesday night was the difference in a 5-4 loss for the LumberKings. The loss marked the first time this season Clinton has lost consecutive games. The five-run Wisconsin outburst was the most runs scored by an opponent in one inning this season against LumberKings pitching.

This date in baseball history: On this date in 1904, Ty Cobb, making his pro baseball debut at the age of seventeen, homers and doubles for Augusta in the South Atlantic League. The Tourists, however, will release the 'Georgia Peach' two days into the season.

Broadcast Information: Erik Oas returns for his second season as the "voice" of LumberKings baseball. All games will be broadcast live on 100.3 FM WCCI and online at LumberKings.com via the TuneIn Radio App.
