NEW ORLEANS BASEBALL HISTORY

1870: The Cincinnati Red Stockings play five games in New Orleans (April 25-30), continuing their undefeated streak before losing to the Brooklyn Athletics, 8-7, on Jun 14, 1870.

1887-1889: The New Orleans Pelicans join the two-year-old Southern League and capture the pennant in their first season. The Pelicans play at Sportsman's Park, what is now City Park Avenue near the Expressway. The Pelicans win a second pennant in 1889.

1901: Southern League reorganizes as the Southern Association. Abner Powell becomes the first Pelican manager of the new century as the team finishes fourth. They play at Athletic Park, which was then at the corner of Tulane Avenue between South Carrollton and South Pierce.

1902-1905: The Pelicans finish last in 1903 and hire Charley Frank as their new manager, and he steers the club for 10 years. The Pelicans claim the pennant in 1905, despite having to play many of their scheduled home games on the road as New Orleans is quarantined due to a yellow fever epidemic.

1908-1913: The Pelicans move to a new location in 1908, bound by South Carrollton, Palmyra, Banks and Scott. A contest is conducted to name the new site and Pelican Park is the winning entry. For the next seven years, the new stadium witnesses many historic events, such as Theo Breitenstein's no-hitter in 1909, Joe Jackson's league-leading .354 batting average in 1910, and back-to-back pennant winners in 1910 and 1911.

1914-1922: Johnny Dobbs becomes the new Pelicans manager in 1914. After the season, the park is moved from Carrollton and Banks to Carrollton and Tulane Avenues, where it is renamed Heinemann Park after the club's owner, A.J. Heinemann. The Pelicans win the pennant in 1914 and add another in 1918. The only unassisted triple play in Southern Association history comes on August 6, 1916, when Pelican second baseman Cotton Knaupp turns it against Chattanooga. The 1918 campaign is curtailed because of World War I, the only year in which the league fails to complete its schedule. In 1921, the Pelicans present the team's greatest batter in the person of Ike Boon, who finishes with a lofty .389 average.

1923-1932: In 1923, Larry Gilbert, who had originally joined the club as an outfielder in 1917, takes over for Johnny Dobbs as manager. Gilbert brings a pennant to New Orleans in his first season, and the Pelicans participate in its first Dixie Series. The Pelicans lose the series to Fort Worth of the Texas League. 1926 and 1927 are banner seasons for the Pelicans, as they capture consecutive pennants, but are defeated in their bid for the Dixie championship. "Country" Davis brings the batting title to New Orleans with a .376 average in 1932. After four more years as manager, Gilbert moves to the front office, and Jake Atz becomes the field boss for one season in 1932.

Pelican Stadium was home to professional baseball in New Orleans for 43 years.

1933-1938: Gilbert returns as manager and not only wins consecutive pennants in 1933 and 1934, but defeats San Antonio and Galveston for the Dixie Series titles as well. New Orleans plays its first night game at Heinemann Park on May 15, 1936, losing to Atlanta in front of 11,000 fans. Gilbert moves on to manage the Nashville Vols after the 1938 season, and the Pelicans never win another championship. In 1938, Heinemann Park is re-named Pelican Park.

1939-1945: Following Gilbert's 15 years as manager, there begins a parade of field leaders, beginning with Roger Peckinpah in 1939 through Mel Parnell in 1959. As World War II sweeps the nation of its baseball talent, the war forces rapid change of personnel as players are called into service. In 1943, New Orleans wins the second half of a split season, but loses to Nashville in the playoff four games to one, as Larry Gilbert defeats his old team.

1946-1957: During this era, the Pelicans have several major league affiliates, including the Red Sox and Pirates. Just after the war in 1947, New Orleans has one of its finest teams. Al Flair sets a team record with 24 home runs, including a shot over the distant center field fence at Pelican Stadium, but the Pelicans lose out in their bid for the pennant by a half-game to the Mobile Bears. Danny Murtaugh is manager from 1952-54, bringing the club into the playoffs against the Atlanta Crackers, who claim the title four games to two. Through the affiliating with the Pirates, New Orleans sees many of its players advance to the majors, including Johnny Power, Gene and George Freese, Bob Skinner, Danny Kravitz and Murtaugh, who goes on to manage Pittsburgh.

The Pelicans returned to New Orleans for one year, playing the 1977 season at the Superdome

1958-1959: Following the 1957 season, after serving as home of the Pelicans for 43 years, Pelican Stadium is demolished and a hotel is erected on the site. The Pelicans move to City Park Stadium for the final two seasons of existence in the Southern Association, with Mel Parnell as manager.

1977: After a drought of 17 years without organized professional baseball, New Orleans becomes a member of the American Association. Playing at the Superdome, the Pelicans, which include future big league managers Tony La Russa and Jim Riggleman, finish last in the Western Division with a 57-79 record under the tutelage of Lance Nichols. Ironically, Denver leads the league in attendance by drawing 288,167, while New Orleans finishes second with 217,957.

1993: With the entry of the Colorado Rockies into the National League, the Denver Zephyrs move to New Orleans for the 1993 season.

July 26, 2009: Michael Ryan and John Lindsey hit consecutive home runs for the third time in the season to lead the Zephyrs past Memphis, 9-4, breaking the Zephyrs' club-record 13-game losing skid.

August 23, 2009: Hayden Penn tosses a seven-inning shutout in the Zephyrs' 6-0 win at Iowa, marking the fifth consecutive game the Z's were involved in a shutout. New Orleans won four of the contests.

November 16, 2009: Chris Coghlan is named National League Rookie of the Year. Coghlan batted .344 in 25 games with New Orleans before a promotion to the Marlins, where he hit .321 with 31 doubles and collected 113 in the second half, the highest such total by a rookie in Major League history.

May 1, 2010: Scott Cousins joins Barry Wesson as the only Zephyrs to hit for the cycle, doing so in an 8-3 win at Oklahoma City. Cousins accomplishes the feat in reverse order, leading off the second with a home run, leading off the fourth with a triple, doubling in the fifth, and singling with two outs in the ninth.

June 18, 2010: The Zephyrs score a franchise-record 13 runs in the fourth inning of a 17-3 romp in Memphis.

June 23, 2010: For the second time in three years, the Z's face a midseason managerial change, as Edwin Rodriguez is promoted to Florida Marlins interim manager following the firing of Fredi Gonzalez. Greg Norton, in his first season of coaching after a 13-year Major League career, assumes the role of manager and guides the Zephyrs to a 33-40 record the rest of the season.

July 28, 2010: Rick VandenHurk fires the Zephyrs' second consecutive complete game against Memphis, joining Sean West, who hurled a three-hit shutout the previous night. VandenHurk and West are the first Zephyrs tandem to record back-to-back complete games since Bob Scanlan and Wade Miller on June 9-10, 1999 in Vancouver.

September 6, 2010: With a two-run double in the third inning of the season finale, Brian Barden extends his hitting streak to 22 games, tying the franchise record set by David Newhan in 2007. Barden's 22-game streak is the longest in the PCL in 2010.

May 16, 2011: The Z's allow five unearned runs in the top of the ninth against Tacoma to fall behind 8-5, only to score four runs in the bottom of the inning in a dramatic victory. Trailing 8-6 and down to their final out with the bases loaded, Brad Davis laces the game-winning double.

May 23, 2011: Joe Thurston gets hit by a pitch three times in a 14-1 win at Sacramento, tying the PCL record held by six others, most recently Tucson's Carlos Quentin in 2005.

June 2, 2011: The Zephyrs smash team records in a 22-6 rout in Omaha. The Z's set new single-game team marks for runs scored, runs batted in (22) and total bases (46), with 17 of the 22 runs scoring over the final three innings. Josh Kroeger scores five times, tying another record.

Valentino Pascucci became the first Z's player to hit three home runs in a game at Zephyr Field on August 2, 2008.

TEAM HISTORY

June 12, 2011: Pitcher Sean West slugs home runs in each of his first two at-bats against Memphis's Brandon Dickson, and hurls 6.1 innings to earn his first victory of the season. West becomes the first Zephyrs pitcher to homer twice in a game.

July 7, 2011: For the first time, the Zephyrs land three players in the Triple-A All-Star Game: Victor Garate, Bryan Petersen and Vinny Rottino. Rottino is the only Zephyr to play in the game, as Garate was on the disabled list, and Petersen had been promoted to the Marlins.

In 2009, Chris Coghlan became the first New Orleans Zephyr to be honored as Rookie of the Year.

December 19, 2011: Ron Hassey is named manager of the Zephyrs.

April 13, 2012: The Zephyrs win 6-4 in Nashville to improve to 8-1, the best start in team history.

May 8, 2012: Luke Montz belts a three-run homer in the bottom of the 16th, giving the Zephyrs a 11-8 win over Tucson. The game matched the longest in Zephyr Field history and saw infielder Chase Lambin earn the win. Lambin worked a scoreless inning after the Z's ran out of pitchers, becoming the first New Orleans position player to be the winning pitcher.

July 7, 2012: Chris Coghlan and Luke Montz each homer twice, part of a Shrine-record seven home run onslaught in a 9-5 win over Oklahoma City.

July 26, 2012: Chris Aguila's sixth-inning home run breaks a 1-1 tie and vaults him into first place on the New Orleans career home run chart, helping the Z's to a 5-1 win over Omaha. Aguila passes J.R. Phillips by hitting his 57th home run in a Zephyrs uniform.

August 17, 2012: Trailing 3-2 in the bottom of the 11th, the Zephyrs engineer a two-run rally to down Sacramento, 4-3, drawing within two games of first place with two weeks remaining in the season.

August 24, 2012: With three home runs in a 6-0 win in Omaha, the Z's surpass the single-season club record en route to finishing with 153, second in the PCL.

August 26, 2012: With Hurricane Isaac bearing down on New Orleans, the Zephyrs are forced to move the first four games of their final homestand to Round Rock, where they are swept by the Express. In the aftermath of Isaac, the PCL cancels the remaining four games of the season, leaving the Z's with a 73-67 record, their first winning campaign in five years.

March 30, 2013: Major League Baseball returns to the Crescent City for the first time in 14 years when the parent club Miami Marlins play the Zephyrs in an exhibition game. Placido Polanco homers twice - a two-run shot in the first inning and a three-run blast in the fourth - and Wade LeBlanc pitches four perfect innings to lead the Marlins to a 7-0 win before a crowd of 9,032 at Zephyr Field.

June 1, 2013: The Zephyrs strike out a franchise-record 21 times, yet outlast the Iowa Cubs, 7-6 in 13 innings.

June 19, 2013: Kyle Skipworth hits the first walk-off grand slam in Z's history as the Zephyrs rally in the bottom of the ninth to defeat Oklahoma City, 4-3. Trailing 3-0 entering the ninth, the Zephyrs load the bases with one out against Jose Valdez, setting the stage for Skipworth's slam.

July 19, 2013: Bryan Petersen leads off the fourth inning with a single to give him 347 hits as a Zephyr, surpassing Jason Alfaro for the club's career record. Petersen also later becomes the team's career doubles leader with his 70th two-bagger on August 9.

August 2, 2013: Brian Flynn extends his streak to 21.2 consecutive scoreless innings with seven scoreless frames vs. Colorado Springs.

August 26, 2013: Chris Hatcher preserves a 1-0 win over Memphis with a perfect ninth inning to record his 33rd save of the season, equaling the Pacific Coast League single-season record set by Ryan Speier of Colorado Springs in 2007.

August 27, 2013: Brian Flynn turns in his ninth quality start over his last 10 games, posting a 1.49 ERA in that span to lower his season mark to 2.80, clinching the PCL's ERA title. Flynn becomes the first Zephyr since Jeriome Robertson in 2002 to lead the league in ERA, and joins Chris Hatcher on the All-PCL squad, becoming the first Zephyrs to be honored since Rick Short, Brandon Watson and Matt White in 2005.

January 22, 2014: Andy Haines is introduced as the 14th manager in New Orleans Zephyrs history.

May 7, 2014: Iowa's Chris Rusin pitches the second no-hitter in Zephyr Field history, blanking the Zephyrs 3-0. Only three Z's reached base, courtesy of two walks (both to Josh Rodriguez) and a catchers interference. Center fielder Matt Szczur's running catch on a shallow fly ball by Rodriguez preserves the final out.

June 5, 2014: Kyle Skipworth becomes the first Zephyr with two career walk-off home runs, crushing a two-run shot in the ninth inning off Round Rock's Matt West to lift the Z's to a 7-5 victory. Four weeks later, on July 1, Kyle Jensen tags West for a walk-off home run in the 11th inning of an 8-7 Zephyrs win.

June 15, 2014: The Z's beat Albuquerque, 6-3 in 10 innings, to surge into first place. It was the 18th win in 24 games, the team's best stretch since May 13-June 5, 2001.

July 16, 2014: Elih Villanueva is named starting pitcher for the PCL in the Triple-A All-Star Game in Durham, N.C., joining Willie Collazo (2008) as the only Zephyrs to be so honored.

August 9, 2014: The Z's equal team records for most runs allowed and largest margin of defeat in a 21-3 setback at Memphis. It was the second 18-run loss of the year, joining a 19-1 loss at Omaha on May 12, and tied the 21 runs surrendered at Colorado Springs in 1998 and at Calgary in 1999.

TEAM HISTORY

August 20, 2014: The Zephyrs turn the second triple play in team history in a 4-0 win at Las Vegas. Kike Hernandez, Juan Diaz and Justin Bour got a twin killing on a Josh Satin grounder, and Bour relayed home to Rob Brantly to throw out Daniel Muno attempting to score from second. It is also the first time in 45 all-time meetings at Cashman Field the Zephyrs record a shutout.

April 17, 2015: For the second year in a row, the Zephyrs turn a triple play, both involving first baseman Justin Bour. With runners at first and second and no outs in the bottom of the first inning in Omaha, Derek Dietrich fields Cheslor Cuthbert's grounder and steps on third base for one out before throwing to first for the second out. Bour then throws behind the runner at second base, allowing Scott Sizemore and Miguel Rojas to get Moises Sierra tagged out in a rundown as the Z's go on to win, 5-3.

May 5, 2015: Pat Misch sets PCL records for hit batsmen in a game (5) and an inning (4) at Oklahoma City. Misch hits the game's first four batters to equal the inning record held by four others, most recently by Omaha's Robinson Tejada against New Orleans in 2011. He later plunked Kyle Jensen to tie the single-game record shared by three others.

May 26, 2015: The Zephyrs sweep a doubleheader from Albuquerque, their first sweep of a twin bill in five years. With victories of 3-0 and 4-0, the Z's post two shutouts on the same day for the first time in club history.

June 30, 2015: In the resumption of a game suspended in the first inning, Jordany Valdespin and Jhonatan Solano were credited with pinch-hit home runs in the first and second innings, respectively, to become the first set of Z's teammates to hit pinch homers in the same game. Pat Misch limited Omaha to four hits over 8.0 scoreless frames of relief to pick up the victory.

August 24, 2015: The Z's snap a franchise-record 15-game losing streak with a 5-0 win over Las Vegas. The skid was the PCL's longest since Salt Lake dropped 16 straight games in 1963. The shutout was the Zephyrs' 14th of the season, a new team mark.

November 30, 2015: Lou Schwachheimer is introduced as the new owner of the Zephyrs. The longtime Pawtucket Red Sox executive assumes controlling interest of the team from Don Beaver.

January 8, 2016: Arnie Beyeler is named New Orleans manager.

April 7, 2016: Destin Hood slugs a grand slam just five batters into the season, propelling New Orleans to a 6-3 win in Omaha on Opening Night.

May 14, 2016: The Zephyrs post one of the largest comebacks in team history in El Paso, scoring eight times in the top of the ninth to erase an 8-0 deficit, only to fall in the bottom of the 11th on a walk-off two-run homer by Ryan Schimpf. 13 men came to the plate in the rally, which ended when Dan Black was thrown out at the plate attempting to score the go-ahead run on a single by Matt Juengle.

May 30, 2016: The Memorial Day contest vs. Tacoma is halted by rain in the sixth inning with the score knotted at 2-2, resulting in the PCL's first tie game in 20 years. Paul Clemens is credited with a rare complete game no-decision in the franchise's first tie since the 1976 Denver Bears.

Three Baby Cakes pitchers combined on the third no-hitter in franchise history on April 14, 2017 at Iowa.

63 pitches to face the minimum through seven innings. Two errors allowed an unearned run to score against Hunter Cervenka in the eighth before Brandon Cunniff retired the side in order in the ninth. It was the franchise's third no-hitter and first since 2001, and marked only the third time in Pacific Coast League history that three pitchers combined on a no-no.

May 28, 2017: Destin Hood joins Isaac Galloway as 'Cakes outfielders to be named PCL Hitter of the Week in a three-week span, after New Orleans had just one player earn the award in the previous five seasons. Galloway slugged five home runs in a four-game series in Reno to get the nod for May 8-14, and Hood became the first NOLA player in nine years to homer in four straight games to net the award for May 22-28.

July 6, 2017: By taking two of three games vs. Omaha from July 4-6, New Orleans won its first series of the season, snapping a franchise-record drought of 21 series, which consisted of 12 losses and nine ties. The previous record was set by the 1996 club, which did not win any of its final 11 series.

August 16, 2017: With seven punchouts vs. El Paso, Tom Koehler reclaims the throne as the club's career strikeout leader with 327, surpassing his 2011-13 teammate Elih Villanueva. In seven outings with the Baby Cakes, Koehler posts a 1.67 ERA with 55 strikeouts in 37.2 innings pitched.

Marlins manager Mike Redmond meets Zephyrs manager Ron Hassey prior to the MLB exhibition game at Zephyr Field on March 30, 2013.

August 15, 2016: NOLA overcomes a 6-1 deficit in Las Vegas, rallying for a 12-8 victory to complete its first-ever series sweep in Sin City. It marks the second time in 2016 the Z's earn their first series sweep in another city, joining a four-gamer in Albuquerque from May 19-22.

September 5, 2016: Two of the season's final four games are rained out, including the Labor Day finale, leaving the club with a 1663-1756 all-time record under the New Orleans Zephyrs moniker.

November 15, 2016: The team unveils a new identity and brand as the re-named New Orleans Baby Cakes, a celebration of the fun, festive atmosphere the Crescent City offers along with the Mardi Gras traditions which bring friends and families together.

April 6, 2017: Memphis spoils the debut of the Baby Cakes, 5-4 in 13 innings. It was the longest Opening Night contest in franchise history in both innings and time of game (4 hours, 9 minutes).

April 14, 2017: Three Baby Cakes pitchers combine to no-hit the Iowa Cubs in an 11-1 victory in Des Moines. Scott Copeland needed only

BIRTH OF THE BABY CAKES

After nearly a quarter-century as the New Orleans Zephyrs, the 2017 season marked the beginning of a new era for professional baseball in the Crescent City with the renamed New Orleans Baby Cakes.

"Baby Cakes" was unveiled as the new name on at a ceremony on November 15, 2016. The name was selected from a group of seven finalists following an online "Name the Team" contest, during which more than 3,000 submissions were turned in by fans to replace the Zephyrs nickname, which carried over with the franchise when the team arrived from Denver in 1993.

"Our goal was to give the baseball fans of New Orleans a team and identity they can call their own," said Baby Cakes President Lou Schwechheimer. "New Orleans is full of traditions woven into the fabric of the city, and this new tradition will be something local and iconic and celebrate what makes New Orleans and Minor League Baseball so great: family and fun."

A tribute to the Mardi Gras king cakes where small plastic babies are sought after, "Baby Cakes" represents a new Louisiana tradition and underscores a fighting spirit and dedication to family fun. The new identity encompasses many Mardi Gras themes, starting with the team colors of mixing the Zephyrs' dark navy blue with gold, purple and green. The primary logo is a baby, wearing a crown, emerging from a king cake while swinging a baseball bat.

The determined-looking baby is showcased on the caps worn during home games, which feature white jerseys spelling "NOLA" with a crown-adorned king cake in place of the letter "O," also prominently featured in an emblem appearing on the team's road caps. The away jerseys spell "New Orleans" with Mardi Gras beads hanging from the lettering.

Alternate versions of the logo include a "joyful" baby and a baby carrying a Mardi Gras parade ladder.

In a nod to the past, the Baby Cakes' crest contains the logos of the city's previous professional baseball identities, the Pelicans and the Zephyrs. The crest is worn as a patch on the sleeves of the home white and alternate navy blue jerseys, while all uniforms include the logo of the parent club Miami Marlins on the opposite sleeve.

"We wanted to create a name and a brand that allowed the heart of this city to shine through it," said Senior Vice President and General Manager Cookie Rojas. "While we take our responsibility to provide affordable family entertainment very seriously, we also want to embrace the fun which permeates through New Orleans. We will continue to create a festive atmosphere with great partners in a clean, immaculate environment where you can bring your family."

PLAYOFF HISTORY

American Association Semifinals: Nashville wins, 3-0

September 7: Nashville 4, New Orleans 0

In the first playoff game in New Orleans, the Sounds' Scott Ruffcorn fired a two-hit shutout as Nashville took the opener of the best-of-five series, 4-0. The Zephyrs managed just four baserunners, none of them getting past first base. Ruffcorn retired 12 straight batters before a two-out walk to Tim Barker in the ninth. Z's starter Mark Kiefer allowed just five hits in 7.0 innings, walked three and threw three wild pitches in the fifth when Nashville grabbed a 3-0 lead.

September 8: Nashville 10, New Orleans 4

Dave Milstien and Joe Hall each had four hits in the Sounds' 10-4 win. Milstien, a late replacement for injured shortstop Brandon Wilson, had three doubles and a triple with four RBI, part of a 17-hit attack for Nashville, who went 2-7 at Privateer Park during the regular season, but left New Orleans with a commanding 2-0 series lead.

September 9: Nashville 7, New Orleans 5

Nashville jumped on the Zephyrs for three runs in the first inning and never looked back en route to the series sweep. Scott Pose led off the game with a double and scored on a Duane Singleton double to give the Z's the early lead, but Nashville rallied behind a 4-for-4 night from Olmedo Saenz, who came within a home run of hitting for the cycle.

1997

American Association Semifinals: Iowa wins, 3-0

September 3: Iowa 6, New Orleans 1

Two days after dropping three of four in Iowa in the season's final series, the Zephyrs open the playoffs by falling in Des Moines, 6-1. John Halama gets roughed up for six runs in five innings to take the loss. The Z's lone run comes after eighth-inning doubles by J.R. Phillips and Melvin Mora.

September 4: Iowa 5, New Orleans 3

The I-Cubs take a commanding series lead behind Brant Brown's 3-for-4 night and solo homers by Terrell Lowery and Pedro Valdes. C.J. Nitkowski lasts just four innings, surrendering three runs on seven hits. Russ Johnson has three hits for the Z's, including a double, but Iowa starter Dave Swartzbaugh racks up 10 strikeouts in 7.1 innings.

September 5: Iowa 4, New Orleans 1

Zephyr Field's inaugural season ends with playoff baseball, but Iowa completes the three-game sweep with a 4-1 win. Brant Brown's two-run homer off Jose Manzanillo breaks a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning. New Orleans starter Trevor Miller goes seven innings, yielding one run on six hits, but the Zephyrs manage just four hits in six innings off Cubs starter Rodney Myers. Todd Haney goes 2-for-4 for the Z's, including an RBI single in the sixth that tied the score.

1998

Pacific Coast League Conference Final: New Orleans wins, 2-1

September 9: Iowa 7, New Orleans 6

An error by Zephyrs shortstop Orlando Miller opened the door for a three-run Iowa rally in the sixth inning, proving to be the difference as the Cubs took the series lead. The Z's had taken a 5-3 lead into the sixth behind Daryle Ward's two-run homer in the fifth. Ward also had a two-run single in the first. Bob Milacki took the loss after allowing seven runs on eight hits in 5.2 innings, including a bases-loaded double to Alan Zinter in the third.

September 10: New Orleans 5, Iowa 3

Casey Candaele's two-run homer in the ninth gives the Zephyrs their first playoff win in eight tries and evens the series. Candaele had hit just three home runs all year, but capped a three-run rally in the ninth with his blast. Julio Lugo, playing in his first game with the Z's, started the rally with a leadoff walk, and scored on an RBI single by Carlos Hernandez. The Cubs had taken the lead in the eighth on a three-run homer by Micah Franklin, the only damage done against Z's starter John Halama, who went eight innings to pick up the win.

September 13: New Orleans 2, Iowa 1

Rain postponed play for two days, forcing the series to move from best-of-five, to a winner-takes-all Game 3. Zephyrs starter Bob Scanlan rose to the occasion, tossing a complete game three-hitter before 8,079 at Zephyr Field as the Z's won their first playoff series. Scanlan retired all nine leadoff men he faced while limiting Iowa to their fewest hits all year. Daryle Ward's leadoff double in the fourth was cashed in by a Julio Lugo sacrifice fly to provide the winning margin.

PLAYOFF HISTORY

Pacific Coast League Final: New Orleans wins, 3-2

September 15: New Orleans 4, Calgary 1

Carlos Hernandez had three hits and two RBI, and John Halama scattered eight hits and an unearned run over 7.0 innings as the Z's grabbed the 1-0 series lead in Calgary. Joe Slusarski entered a bases-loaded jam in the eighth, and induced a Brian Hunter home-to-first double play, and a David Toth groundout to end the threat. Reggie Harris pitched a scoreless ninth to earn the save.

September 16: Calgary 12, New Orleans 8

Brian Hunter's grand slam with two out in the bottom of the ninth evened the series for Calgary. Hunter finished with four hits, including two home runs. The Z's fell behind 6-0 in the first as the Cannons blasted Bob Milacki for three home runs, but Johan Lopez kept them in the game with 4.0 innings of one-run ball, and Daryle Ward's home run off Jose Bautista in the top of the ninth tied the score at 8-8.

September 17: Calgary 5, New Orleans 2

Mario Valdez hit a tie-breaking home run in the fifth and later tacked on an RBI single as Calgary pushed the Zephyrs to the brink of elimination. Brian Hunter added two RBI on a third-inning double, and a fifth-inning sacrifice fly. The Z's had led 2-0 on an RBI single by Carlos Hernandez in the second and an RBI double by Chris Truby in the third, but were held to just two hits over the final six innings.

September 18: New Orleans 8, Calgary 1

Bob Scanlan came up with his second complete game of the postseason, this time a seven-hitter, and the Zephyrs scored four times with two out in the seventh to break a tie and force Game 5. Daryle Ward's first-inning home run gave the Zephyrs a 1-0 lead, Carlos Hernandez untied the score with a single in the seventh, and Casey Candaele doubled in two more to pad the lead.

September 19: New Orleans 4, Calgary 3

The Zephyrs won their first PCL championship behind seven strong innings from Bob Milacki, and another Daryle Ward home run. Milacki fell behind after two pitches, surrendering a double and a single, but shut out Calgary for the next six frames. Ward tied the score with a fifth-inning homer, and grabbed the lead on Casey Candaele's RBI double in the seventh. Lance Berkman's running, back-handed catch with the tying run on third in the eighth preserved the lead, sending the Zephyrs to Las Vegas.

Triple-A World Series: New Orleans wins, 3-1

September 21: New Orleans 7, Buffalo 2

Daryle Ward continued to swing a hot bat, belting two more home runs to give the Z's the early advantage in the series. Ward took Buffalo starter John Rakers deep in the first, and then again in the fifth. Meanwhile, John Halama went the distance and gave up just four hits while retiring 19 of the first 21 batters he faced, and took a shutout into the seventh before Russell Branyan's two-out home run. Marc Ronan had three hits, including a two-run single in the fifth.

September 22: Buffalo 9, New Orleans 2

Buffalo scored two in the first and three in the third off Z's starter Derek Root and cruised to a Game 2 win. Torey Lovullo went 2-for-3 with three runs scored, and Jeff Manto and Phil Hiatt had 2 RBI apiece for Buffalo.

September 24: New Orleans 3, Buffalo 2

Ken Ramos and Marc Ronan hit back-to-back home runs in the eighth inning to rally the Zephyrs to within one win of a Triple-A title. Buffalo had taken a 2-1 lead in the sixth on Russell Branyan's sacrifice fly, and looked to be closing in on the win as reliever Chris Nichting struck out each of the first two Zephyrs in the eighth. But Ramos tied the score on a home run, his third hit of the day, and after a pitching change, Ronan untied it with a drive over the right field wall. Bob Scanlan went 8.0 innings for the win.

September 25: New Orleans 12, Buffalo 6

Lance Berkman hit three home runs and drove in six as New Orleans captured its first national professional sports title with a 12-6 win. Berkman homered in the first, sixth and ninth innings, the last of which capped a six-run outburst. His final homer was only the fourth time a player cleared the 433-foot mark at Cashman Field's center field. Casey Candaele had an RBI triple in the first and homered to lead off the third. Roberto Rivera relieved Bob Milacki in the sixth and worked out of a bases-loaded jam to keep the Zephyrs ahead, until Daryle Ward's two-run single and Berkman's third homer put the game out of reach in the ninth.

The Z's celebrate on the mound after winning the Triple-A World Series, bringing New Orleans its 1st professional national title.

Lance Berkman is presented the Triple-A World Series MVP Award after hitting .467 with three homers and six RBI in the five games.

PLAYOFF HISTORY

Zephyrs manager Tony Pena pours champagne after New Orleans clinched the division title in 2001.

2001

Pacific Coast League Conference Final: New Orleans wins, 3-0

September 5: New Orleans 10, Iowa 0

Keith Ginter and Morgan Ensberg hit two home runs each and Travis Driskill limited Iowa to four hits over six shutout innings in a Game 1 romp. Ginter homered off Carlos Zambrano in the second, and Ensberg did the same in the fourth. The pair then went back-to-back off Will Ohman in the sixth, marking the first time Z's teammates homered twice in the same game since 1997.

September 6: New Orleans 6, Iowa 1

Brian Powell gave up five hits and struck out six in seven scoreless innings to lift the Zephyrs to a 2-0 series lead. The Z's jumped on top in the first against Mike Meyers on a Keith Ginter double followed by an RBI single by Alan Zinter, and Raul Chavez paced the offense by going 3-for-3. Iowa had the tying run at the plate down 3-0 in the seventh, but Powell got Chris Snopce to pop out, ending the threat.

September 8: New Orleans 3, Iowa 1

In a game spanning two days, Eric Bruntlett went 2-for-4 and drove in the game-winning run in the 12th inning as the Zephyrs completed the sweep of the Cubs. Bruntlett's sacrifice fly had tied the game at 1-1 before thunderstorms forced the suspension of play after 4 1/2 innings. When the game resumed the following night, neither team could muster much offense, until Bruntlett's 12th-inning single and a pinch RBI single by Frank Charles gave the Z's a 3-1 lead. Bruntlett added a diving stop on a grounder in the bottom of the 12th, then began the game-ending double play to clinch the series for New Orleans.

Pacific Coast League Final: Cancelled
New Orleans, Tacoma Co-Champions

September 12:

The 2001 PCL Final was to begin on September 11th, but the terrorist attacks on the United States that morning led to the cancellation of all Minor League postseason series. The Zephyrs, having won the American Conference, and the Tacoma Rainiers, having won the Pacific Conference, are declared co-champions of the PCL by Commissioner Branch Rickey. It marks only the second time in the 99-year history of the PCL that co-champions are named; in 1978, inclement weather had forced the cancellation of the championship series between Tacoma and Albuquerque. "Even though we wanted to play," Zephyrs manager Tony Pena said, "I think it's a great decision."

Zephyrs players and fans celebrate on the field after New Orleans clinched the division title in 2001.

Shared Championships in Pacific Coast League history:

Year	Teams
1978	Albuquerque, Tacoma

Albuquerque swept Salt Lake City in the Southern Division playoffs, then awaited the winner of the Northern Division series between Tacoma and Portland. The decisive Game 5 in Portland was never played due to continuing rain, and the league declared Tacoma the winner based on regular season record. Due to the ongoing weather delays, and with Tacoma's (Yankees) and Albuquerque's (Dodgers) parent clubs in pennant races, the championship series was called off.

2001	New Orleans, Tacoma

Game 1 of the PCL Championship was to be played in New Orleans on September 11th, but the terrorist attacks prompted the stoppage of all baseball games for a week, and the premature conclusion of all Minor League Baseball playoff series. The Zephyrs had swept Iowa to win the American Conference, while Tacoma had beaten Sacramento in five games to win the Pacific.

Pacific Coast League Conference Final: New Orleans wins, 3-1

The Zephyrs storm out of the dugout to congratulate Robinson Cancel after his walk-off single to beat Nashville in Game 1 of the 2007 PCL Conference Finals.

September 5: New Orleans 3, Nashville 2

Robinson Cancel delivered a walk-off RBI single in the bottom of the ninth to lift the Z's to victory. The Z's had scored twice in the first only to see Nashville tie the game in the eighth. Stolen bases by Carlos Gomez (first inning) and David Newhan (ninth inning) were part of both scoring rallies. Dave Williams held the Sounds to one run on three hits with six strikeouts in 6.1 innings.

September 6: New Orleans 5, Nashville 1

Andy Tracy's first-inning home run gave the Zephyrs a lead they would never surrender, and Jason Vargas turned in 6.0 innings of three-hit ball for the win. David Newhan and Chad Hermansen had three hits apiece, and Chip Ambres reached base four times.

September 7: Nashville 6, New Orleans 5

J.R. Hopf staved off elimination for Nashville, first sending the game into extra innings with a home run leading off the bottom of the ninth, then winning it with a bases-loaded single in the 10th. An RBI double by Fernando Tatis in the top of the ninth had put the Zephyrs three outs away from clinching the series.

September 8: New Orleans 6, Nashville 0

Kevin Mulvey dazzled for seven innings, holding Nashville scoreless on four hits with eight strikeouts, and the Z's clinched the conference crown. Jesus Feliciano went 3-for-4 with a home run and three RBI as the Z's pounded out 13 hits, including seven for extra bases.

Pacific Coast League Final: Sacramento wins, 3-0

September 11: Sacramento 5, New Orleans 3

David Newhan's two home runs weren't enough to stop the River Cats from taking the series lead. Newhan had three of the Zephyrs' six hits and starter Adam Bostick held Sacramento to two runs on two hits with nine strikeouts in 6.0 innings, but a seventh inning error by Anderson Hernandez led to a pair of unearned runs, proving to be the difference. Jorge Piedra's two-run single after the error keyed the inning.

September 12: Sacramento 3, New Orleans 2

Jorge Piedra again dealt the Zephyrs a devastating blow, tying the game in the top of the ninth with a home run off Carlos Muniz, and Brian Stavisky's RBI double two batters later gave Sacramento the win. Dave Williams struck out seven in 7.2 innings and gave up just three hits.

September 14: Sacramento 4, New Orleans 3

After falling behind in a four-run fourth inning, the Zephyrs rallied behind a three-run homer by Fernando Tatis in the eighth, but could get no closer as Sacramento swept to the PCL title. The Z's managed only three hits off Brad Knox, and hit just .160 (15-for-94) in the series.

Anderson Hernandez misplays a grounder during Game 3 of the PCL Final, allowing Sacramento's Brant Colamarino to score on the play as the River Cats completed the three-game sweep.

BOLD - WON LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

y- Triple A World Series Champions and PCL Champs

z- PCL Co-Champions with Tacoma due to September 11th Tragedy

The franchise was born in 1902 as the Kansas City Cowboys, a founding member of the American Association. Renamed the Blues two years later, the team remained in Kansas City until the Philadelphia Athletics relocated there in 1955, prompting the Blues to move to Denver, where they inherited the Bears monicker which had been used by Denver's Single-A Western League club since 1911.
